

Andrea Arrigucci

Andrea is the Program Coordinator from the School of HRTM and facilitator of the Marriott Hospitality Futures Center at NMSU. She is a graduate from the HRTM program from 2010 and worked previously in Food and Beverage operations and management, Rental Car operations management, as well as dental administration before beginning her current role that is devoted to community outreach and student support.

Julie Correa

Julie is a College Assistant Professor from the School of HRTM and the faculty advisor for two student organizations, NSMH and DSP. She earned a Bachelor of Science in HRTM in 2005 and a Masters of Art in English in 2007. Since graduation, she has been an integral part of the HRTM department through her efforts to coordinate the annual Hospitality Career Fair and work closely with industry recruiters. She currently teaches Introduction to Hospitality, Meetings and Events, Hospitality Seminar and Professional Development in the School of HRTM.